

About Blackbullion

Blackbullion is the fintech company for education, empowering students with the financial skills and confidence to create a money-smart future. Championing financial wellbeing for all, we partner with universities and colleges to deliver financial education and support to students through our online platform. Our 40+ partners across the UK, Australia and New Zealand include Imperial College London, LSE, UWE, UA92 and the University of South Australia.